South Coast Babe Ruth Tournament Committee

Babe Ruth Baseball

Pacific Northwest Region

Welcome and greetings to all, and congratulations!

On behalf of the Pacific Northwest Region of Babe Ruth Baseball, I would like to welcome you to this year's Regional Tournament.

I would like to take this opportunity to draw your attention to two items of particular interest: Regional Tournament Rules and Regulations, and the concussions awareness training which the Region fully endorses, and which will be in effect during all Regional Tournaments.

Pacific Northwest Regional Tournament Rules and Regulations – Included in the information package are two documents: 1) Tournament Participant Information, and 2) Pool Play and Tie-Breaker Format. I encourage you to review both documents carefully as they are the rules/regulations under which our Regional Tournaments are conducted. These rules/regulations may be different from those under which your State or Provincial Championships are conducted. While these rules/regulations will be addressed in detail at the mandatory Manager's meeting prior to the opening of the Tournament, it is important that players and parents understand them as well.

Concussion Awareness – Most sports fans are aware of numerous player injuries because of concussions in both professional and amateur sports. Players in professional hockey, baseball and football have suffered concussions which have resulted in them missing not only a few games but also the rest of their season, and in some cases even more time.

As a result of the increasing number of concussion incidents, the Pacific Northwest Region mandates concussion awareness training for players, their parents, and their coaches. It also mandates that any player suspected of sustaining a concussion be removed from competition and not be allowed back into competition until the player has received written clearance from a licensed health care provider trained in the management of brain injuries. Please be aware that this will be strictly enforced during all Tournaments.

Best of luck to all participants. Play great baseball and experience good sportsmanship throughout the tournament.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT Tournament Participant Information

COVID-19 protocols for this tournament are based on Oregon Health Authority, and county public health guidelines, not the tournament staff.

Each host site has ensured that all OHA/county safety protocols have been met for the safety of all spectators, officials, coaches, players, and their families.

Additional information on current OHA guidelines will be provided at the Tournament Coaches Meeting to all managers, and it is the responsibility of the coaches to ensure that any additional protocols are required, are followed by their players and player families. Thank you for your assistance.

Any decision regarding an exemption will be the responsibility of the Regional Commissioner or the Tournament Commissioner and such decision shall be final and not subject to appeal. Dual participation by a player, manager, or coach in another sporting event does NOT qualify as an extenuating circumstance and will not be sufficient grounds for granting said exemption. The penalty for violation of the above requirements may be disqualification of the absent player, manager, or coach for the remainder of the tournament, but shall not affect the eligibility of such player, manager, or coach, if otherwise eligible, for subsequent levels of play should their team qualify.

A mandatory manager's meeting will be held prior to the beginning of tournament play. All teams must be represented at this meeting. With pre-approval from the Tournament Commissioner, should an extenuating circumstance beyond the control of the manager prevent his attendance, a team coach may act as a representative.

Ejection – Suspension – Disqualification

In all cases involving a suspension or disqualification, the Tournament Commissioner will review the circumstances involved and, after taking into consideration all relevant facts, may increase such disciplinary action as is deemed necessary or appropriate. The decision of the Tournament Commissioner will be final and there will be no appeal from such decision.

If further disciplinary action is deemed necessary, the manager of the team so disciplined will be provided with written confirmation of the penalty and the reasons thereof. The Tournament Commissioner will retain a copy of the disqualification report and any supplementary correspondence, and it will be forwarded to the Pacific Northwest Regional Commissioner for further review and possible additional penalties.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST REGIONAL TOURNAMENT Pool Play & Tie-Breaker Format

Regional Tournament competition will begin with a pool play format and includes 9 State/Provincial Champions plus a team representing the tournament Host. In pool play qualification, the 10 teams are divided into two 5-team pools (American and National). The pairings are randomly drawn at the Regional's Annual Spring Meeting. Each of the two divisions will play a pool play schedule as determined by the Commissioner under whose jurisdiction the tournament falls. Teams will be seeded at the beginning of a single-elimination competition according to the position they finished in pool play.

Pool play standings will be determined as follows:

1. WIN - LOSS RECORD

The tie breakers are used to advance or seed ONE or more teams at a time. Each time a tie is broken to advance one or more teams, leaving a tie between two or more teams, the situation reverts to criterion #2 (head-to-head results). If still tied:

2. RESULTS OF HEAD-TO-HEAD COMPETITION

Example: Three teams are tied with identical records for first place at the end of pool play. Teams A, B, and C played against each other once in pool play. Team A won all its games against Team B and Team C during pool play. Result: Team A advances, which then creates a two-way tie between Team B and Team C. That tie then is broken by reverting to criterion #2. If still tied:

3. FEWEST RUNS GIVEN UP

If the results of the head-to-head matchup(s) of the teams that are involved in the tie cannot break the tie (because no team defeated each of the other teams in the tie each time they played, or because no team has defeated all the other teams involved in the tie, or because the teams involved in the tie did not play one another during pool play), then the tie is broken using criterion #3. The remaining teams' tie is broken by reverting to criterion #2. If still tied:

4. RUN DIFFERENTIAL WITH A MAXIMUM OF 10 PER GAME

In the event a tie is created by virtue of a forfeited game, and the tie cannot be broken by criterion #2 or #3, the order of criterion #3 and #4 will be reversed and applied to the tie. Since the number of runs which might have been scored during the game may have affected the fewest runs allowed standing (and the awarding of the forfeit gives the "winning team" no additional runs given up), this order will better adjust for that event.

- The ten-run rule is in effect for all games played.
- The run rule in any forfeited Babe Ruth game will be 7-0 for the non-forfeiting team.

Concussion Information

A concussion is a brain injury, and all brain injuries are serious. They are caused by a bump, blow, or jolt to the head or by a blow to another part of the body with the force transmitted to the head. They can range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally works. Even though most concussions are mild, all concussions are potentially serious and may result in complications, including prolonged brain damage and death if not recognized and managed properly. In other words, even a “ding” or a bump on the head can be serious. You cannot see a concussion, and most sports concussions occur without loss of consciousness. Signs and symptoms of concussion may show up right after the injury or can take hours or days to fully appear. If your child reports any symptoms of concussions, or if you notice the symptoms or signs of concussion yourself, seek medical attention immediately.

Symptoms may include one or more of the following:

- Headaches
- “Pressure” in head
- Nausea or vomiting
- Neck pain
- Dizziness or balance problems
- Blurred, double, or fuzzy vision
- Sensitivity to light or noise
- Feeling sluggish or slowed down
- Feeling foggy or groggy
- Drowsiness
- Change in sleep patterns
- Amnesia
- “Don’t feel right”
- Fatigue or low energy
- Sadness
- Nervousness or anxiety
- Irritability
- More emotional
- Confusion
- Concentration or memory problems
- Forgetting game plays
- Repeating the same question/comment

Signs observed by teammates, parents, and coaches include:

- Appears dazed.
- Vacant facial expression
- Confused about assignment.
- Forgets plays.
- Is unsure of game, score, or opponent.
- Moves clumsily or displays incoordination.
- Answers questions slowly
- Slurred speech
- Shows behavior or personality changes.
- Cannot recall events prior to hit.
- Cannot recall events after hit.
- Seizures or convulsions
- Any change in typical behavior or personality
- Loses consciousness.

What Can Happen If My Child Keeps Playing With a Concussion or Returns Too Soon?

Athletes with the signs and symptoms of a concussion should be removed from play immediately. Continuing to play with the signs and symptoms of a concussion leaves the young athlete especially vulnerable to greater injury. There is an increased risk of significant damage from a concussion for a period after the concussion occurs, particularly if the athlete suffers another concussion before completely recovering from the first one.

This can lead to prolonged recovery or even severe brain swelling (second impact syndrome) with devastating and even fatal consequences. It is well known that an adolescent or teenage athlete will often under-report symptoms of injuries, and concussions are no different. As a result, education of administrators, coaches, parents, and students is the key for a student-athlete's safety.

If you think your child has suffered a concussion:

Any athlete even suspected of suffering a concussion should be removed from the game or practice immediately. No athlete may return to activity after an apparent head injury or concussion, regardless of how mild it seems or how quickly symptoms clear, without medical clearance. Close observation of the athlete should continue for several hours. The Zackery Lystedt Law in Washington state requires the consistent and uniform implementation of long and well-established return-to-play concussion guidelines that have been recommended for several years:

A youth athlete who is suspected of sustaining a concussion or head injury in a practice or game shall be removed from competition at that time.

AND

...may not return to play until the athlete is evaluated by a licensed health provider trained in the evaluation and management of concussion and received written clearance to return to play from that healthcare provider.

You should also inform your child's coach if you think that your child may have a concussion. Remember, it is better to miss one game than miss the whole season. When in doubt, the athlete sits out.

For current and up-to-date information on concussions, visit: www.cdc.gov/headsup/youthsports

About Clyde Allen Ballpark

The Coos Bay–North Bend A's played at North Bend Municipal Park. Built in 1947, the ballpark had a capacity of 1,000 and field dimensions of (Left, Center, Right) 325–390–305 (1971). Today, the ballpark is known as "Clyde Allen Field" and is still in use by youth baseball teams and North Bend High School teams.

Minor league baseball first came to the area when the Coos Bay–North Bend A's joined the Northwest League in 1970. The Northwest league expanded from a four–team league in 1969 to a six–team league in 1970 with the addition of Coos Bay–North Bend and the Bend Rainbows.

The Oakland A's had a Northwest League farm team in Pasco, Washington where they played the 1969 season as the Tri-City A's. Davego Sports Inc., who owned the Tri-City franchise, declined renewing their working agreement with Oakland. Tri-City would sign on with the San Diego Padres. Oakland A's farm system director Phil Seghi wanted to keep a team in the Northwest League. Seghi and the league president narrowed down a list of possible destinations: Vancouver, British Columbia, Kalispell, Montana, Missoula, Montana and North Bend, Oregon. The Northwest League president, John Carbray, negotiated with Seghi to place a franchise in North Bend-Coos Bay and gained the support of local leaders. As an affiliate of the Athletics, the club adopted the A's moniker. North Bend Municipal Park was expanded and upgraded to host the team. The A's games were broadcast locally on KBBR radio. The price of a 1970 a single-season ticket was $25 for the whole season. On opening night June 24, 1970, 813 were in attendance for the first game.

The 1970 Coos Bay–North Bend A's finished with a finished with a 45–35 record, ahead of the Bend Rainbows (39–41), Lewis-Clark Broncs (43–37), Medford Dodgers (36–44), Tri-City Padres (38–42) and Walla Walla Phillies (39–41) in the Northwest League standings. The Managed by Harry Bright, the A's finished 1st in the South Division. Playing at North Bend Municipal Park, the Coos Bay–North Bend A's had season attendance of 14,817, an average of 370 per game.

In their second season, the Coos Bay–North Bend A's finished 2nd in the Northwest League South Division and 5th overall. The 1971 Coos Bay–North Bend A's finished the regular season 36–42 under Managers Jim Reinhold and Warren Hacker. The A's had home attendance of 11,701 for the season.

In their final season, the 1972 Coos Bay–North Bend A's finished 3rd in the Northwest League South Division and 5th overall. Managed by Grover Resinger, the A's finished 33–45. In their final season at North Bend Municipal Park, the Coos Bay–North Bend A's' season attendance was 10,220 an average of 262, last in the Northwest League.

On August 21, 1972, the team scheduled a ceremonial Charlie O' Finley day in honor of the Oakland A's and franchise owner. Finley didn't appear as planned. On August 30, the last home game of the season, there were 291 fans in attendance.

Following the season, Oregon Coast Baseball terminated their affiliation with the Oakland Athletics. The Oakland Athletics moved their Northwest League farm team to Lewiston, Idaho, where they played the 1973 Northwest League season as the Lewiston Broncos. Coos Bay–North Bend has not hosted another minor league team.

"The Bay Area was blessed," said Ed Keim, President of Oregon Coast Baseball, the Coos Bay–North Bend A's local sponsor group. "Even though it was a short amount of time, the people who were able to brave the weather got to see some great ballplayers who did some incredible things after the time they spent here."
